Being innovative, changing with right knowledge
Be a light to the country as well as to the world.

Message from the Hon. Minister of Education

The past two decades have been significant in the world history due to changes that took place in technology. The present students face a lot of new challenges along with the rapid development of Information Technology, communication and other related fields. The manner of career opportunities are liable to change specifically in the near future. In such an environment, with a new technological and intellectual society, thousands of innovative career opportunities would be created. To win those challenges, it is the responsibility of the Sri Lankan government and myself, as the Minister of Education, to empower you all.

This book is a product of free education. Your aim must be to use this book properly and acquire the necessary knowledge out of it. The government in turn is able to provide free textbooks to you, as a result of the commitment and labour of your parents and elders.

Since we have understood that the education is crucial in deciding the future of a country, the government has taken steps to change curriculum to suit the rapid changes of the technological world. Hence, you have to dedicate yourselves to become productive citizens.

I believe that the knowledge this book provides will suffice your aim.

It is your duty to give a proper value to the money spent by the government on your education. Also you should understand that education determines your future. Make sure that you reach the optimum social stratum through education.

I congratulate you to enjoy the benefits of free education and bloom as an honoured citizen who takes the name of Sri Lanka to the world.

Akila Viraj Kariyawasam
Minister of Education

Foreword

The educational objectives of the contemporary world are becoming more complex along with the economic, social, cultural and technological development. The learning and teaching process too is changing in relation to human experiences, technological differences, research and new indices. Therefore, it is required to produce the textbook by including subject related information according to the objectives in the syllabus in order to maintain the teaching process by organizing learning experiences that suit to the learner needs. The textbook is not merely a learning tool for the learner. It is a blessing that contributes to obtain a higher education along with a development of conduct and attitudes, to develop values and to obtain learning experiences.

The government in its realization of the concept of free education has offered you about 91 textbooks from grades 6 -11. I would like to remind you that you should make the maximum use of these textbooks and protect them well. I sincerely hope that this textbook would assist you to obtain the expertise to become a virtuous citizen with a complete personality who would be a valuable asset to the country.

I would like to bestow my sincere thanks on the members of the editorial and writer boards as well as on the staff of the Educational Publications Department who have strived to offer this textbook to you.

W. M. Jayantha Wickramanayaka,
Commissioner General of Educational Publications,

A Word to the Teacher.....

The Boards of Writers and Editors are honoured to be a part of this national engagement to compile and edit the Grade 10 English textbook and workbook for the students of our country. The textbook is designed to help the students learn and use language in different situations locally and internationally. The book also contains additional information for the teachers in the form of the competency levels and the corresponding activities with the hope of making the task of teaching easier. Furthermore, the book is designed to accommodate the different and varying proficiency levels of the students with the hope of addressing the needs of the larger student population of this country. In addition, the lessons are chronologically sequenced to avoid any confusion that may arise in the teaching process.

It is recommended that this book be used as a guide to teachers and students on expected national standards and teachers are encouraged to use supplementary material as much as possible in the classroom. We thank all those who worked with us through this difficult but enjoyable process and hope that we will be able to make a difference in the lives of our students who are keen and enthusiastic to learn English. So, let's learn English!

Thank you

The Stone Mason (A folktale from China)

1

A long time ago, there lived a stone mason. Every day, he cut slabs of stone out of a huge rock in the side of a mountain and sold them.

.....
One day, while the stone mason was looking out of the window of his beautiful house, he saw a prince. The prince was seated in a carriage and his servants held a golden umbrella over his head to protect him from the sun. Now the stone mason longed to be a prince. “Oh! How nice it would be to be a prince. I would be able to travel in a carriage with a golden umbrella held over me,” he said.

The next moment, he was a prince seated in a grand carriage. He was dressed in lovely garments with an umbrella held over his head. The stone mason was overjoyed.

One day the stone mason had to deliver a gravestone to a house of a wealthy man. There he saw such riches he had never seen before. Suddenly he felt sad and dissatisfied with his life. "If I had beautiful things like these, I would be a very happy man," he thought. At that moment, he heard a voice of a mountain spirit who dwelt in that area. "Your wish will be granted. You will be rich," it said.

The stone mason, now a cloud, spread around the earth. He did not let the sun beams through. He was glad to see the earth grow green again, but soon that was not enough. He made it rain so hard. Crops were destroyed and villages were flooded.

But before long he found out that his golden umbrella could not keep the sun out. He was sweating hard and his face was getting brown. "I wish I were the sun," he said. The voice of the mountain spirit said, " You shall be the sun."

.....
When the stone mason reached home, he saw an amazing sight. Instead of his hut, he found a grand house standing there. It was full of most beautiful and valuable things. Thereafter, the stone mason started a new life.

The stone mason was proud to be the sun. He shot his rays everywhere and enjoyed his power.

Then a cloud covered the earth and he grew angry. He thought the cloud was stronger and wanted to be the cloud. The spirit granted his wish.

.....

Then something hit him hard and a block of rock broke off. The stone mason looked down. He saw a man driving tools into the rock and breaking it into pieces. “Can this be true?” he shouted. “A common man is mightier than the rock? I wish I were a man. “You shall be a man again,” the mountain spirit answered.

But he could not do anything to the rock on the mountainside. “Is this rock mightier than I am?” he demanded. “If only I could be this rock!, He wished. ”Then he was the rock.

.....

Now he was truly proud as the rock. He was certain that he was the mightiest of all.

.....

From that time the stone mason worked as hard as he did before. His life was hard but he did not want to be anyone else. As he was truly happy now, he never heard the voice of the mountain spirit again.

- What lesson can we learn from this story?

ACTIVITY 08

Complete the following story and compare it with that of your teacher.

Why the Sun and the Moon Live in the Sky

(A Nigerian folk tale)

Once upon a time, the sun, his wife, the moon and the water lived on the earth. They were good friends. The sun and the moon often visited the water, but the water never came to the sun's house. The sun kept on inviting the water to visit him.

He refused. He said, "I have to come with all my people. We need a lot of room. Your house will not be spacious enough." The sun wanted to invite his friend somehow. He talked to the moon about it. They decided to build a house large enough for the water and his people to visit. Little by little, they built a huge house. Then they invited the water to visit them.

What happened next? Continue the story with a good ending.
